2022 Binger Kirchberg Riesling trocken Score: 17

Flinty, petrichor nose with a hint of yellow rose. Stern, upright, very direct wine with spine-tingling chiselled-stone texture. Green apricots, kumquats and lime. The acidity is broad sword and shining and does not back down. It's long with rapier-like intensity. Put it away for now. (TC) Drink 2026-2038 Published 9/12/223

2022 Binger Osterberg Riesling trocken Score: 16,5++

Vertical with a quarry-stone dustiness. Grippingly, teeth-clenchingly dry and salty and lemony. A fierce, uncompromising wine. Like licking ocean-carved chalk cliffs. Strikingly vertical. Long and lean, lean, lean. (TC) Drink 2025-2035 Published 9/12/223

2022 Binger Scharlachberg Riesling trocken Score: 16,5++

Peppery and white-knuckle clenched. At the moment, this feels like a towering monument of acidity. It goes up and up and up, but as broad as it is high. White-marble minerality. Hard edges and angles, but my experience of this wine is that it does, eventually, soften. The concentration is there, buried under stone. (TC) Drink 2027-2038 Published 9/12/223

2022 Binger Rosengarten Riesling trocken Score: 17

More gentle than the Osterberg – I wonder if it has a gram or two more of residual sugar. A teeny bit spritzy and despite being lower in alcohol, the wine has more silky weight and silky texture than the Oseterberg. Peaches, apricots and Seville orange with the lightest suggestion of hazelnut praline. A real beauty, although it also throws a javelin of formidable acidity with considerable power and focus. 2022 Binger Kirchberg Riesling Kabinett Score: 16.5+

Smoky, darker, stonier, more shadowed grip than the Scharlachberg. A bit of citrus peel, compact, earthier. Racy acidity, lithe and focused. Tangerine finish. (PS) Drink 2024-2034 Published 31/08/223

2022 Binger Scharlachberg Riesling Kabinett Score: 17

Dainty but no shrinking violet. It's bright, filled with light, tastes like clementines kissing apricots under a sweet-lime rain shower. The sweetness is just right, tripping from lips to the middle of the tongue and pausing there like a little puddle of sunlight. Impossible to resist. (TC) Drink 2024-2029 Published 09/12/23

2022 Binger Riesling Quarzit trocken Score: 15.5

A bit more concentration and oomph in this Ortswein than their 2022 Brocken Riesling gutswein tasted just before. The nose is also floral, but it's more pronounced. The acidity is sharper and stronger, the citrus is stronger, the citrus-peel bitterness and oils more punchy. Lots of lime. But it's still a little on the skinny side. 2022 Pet Nat trocken Score: 16

Environmental plus-points for the lack of capsule! Cloudy and golden yellow. Wild aromas of quince and kumquat, and a hint of Traminer perfume. Nutty, vermouth-like bitters on the medium-bodied palate. Lightening fresh with a chalky green-tea texture. Menthol freshness and long lime-zest finish. Natty-light. 2021 Scheurebe & Sauvignon blanc trocken Score: 16

Tropical aromas of passion fruit and gooseberry; drying hay and the electric bite of lime juice and zest. The aromas and acidity of a Sauvignon with the creamy texture and body of a Scheurebe. Bright and juicy palate – floral finish. Keen and captivating. (PS) Drink 2022-2024 Published 18/04/23

2022 Riesling trocken Score: 15.5

A dainty nose of jasmine and white lilac. Delicate, light and fleeting. Dry and tastes as dainty and as floral as it smells, but with thirst-quenching acidity. Almost a spritzer in itself. Not long, but a lovely terrace wine. (TC) Drink 2023-2025 Published 06/12/23

2021 Silvaner trocken Score: 15.5

Shy and delicate. Good balance of white fruit and flowers. A lazy summer day of pale citrus dreams under the shade of a ripening apple tree. Linear, lively and lingering. (PS) Drink 2023-2026 Published 18/04/23

ZERO Riesling Alcoholfree Sparkling Wine Score: 15

Well balanced. Limey and refreshing. It has that strange, hollow, shrub-like (nice) vinegar-acidity taste that most of these dealcoholised wines seem to have, which makes them all very samey and while one glass is refreshing, it becomes a bit caustic from the second glass onwards.
