2023 Binger Kirchberg Riesling Kabinett Score: 17

Tingling, petillant, convex with fruit, the sweetness effortlessly contained within the contours of vibrant flavour and acidity. Ripe and fresh-off-the-tree apricots and mirabelles, pinging with golden juice. Baked apples bringing softness and a sift of spice. Great balance! Really alive. (TC) Drink 2024-2028 Published 27/9/2024

2023 Riesling trocken Score: 16,5

Tiny, tiny bit of petillance, giving the wine a lively, fairy-tap-dancing feel in the mouth. Exuberant with orange, tangerine and satsuma fruit, topped with little purple flowers and a soupçon of lime marmalade. So very pretty and mouth-watering and vibey. (TC) Drink 2024-2028 Published 27/9/2024

2022 Ruby Rouge Score: 16

Sappy and floral. Black-cherry, crushed-gravel-dusted fruit. Vibrant with life. Skinny, sinewy tannins with vertical reach, as if they're growing towards the sky. The whole wine seems to be reaching up to the sky. Lots of acidity, character and energy. (TC) Drink 2024-2027 Published 27/9/2024

2023 Binger Osterberg Riesling trocken Score: 17

I often find that the Osterberg tastes and smells of spicy flowers. Wild flowers. Foraged leaves. The 2023 is sorrel and angelica. Something a little rain-and-dust, like an old brick. Tight as a rose bud, sharp-sweet as an orange rose hip, piercingly delicate. The acidity is aciculate, the wine seems to dance on a pin – needle-fine slivers of lime. Mossy-stones minerality. Tingling precision. (TC) Drink 2026-2035 Published 27/9/2024

2023 Binger Kirchberg Riesling trocken Score: 17++

Bravo to the Riffels for reducing the bottle weights of their grosse lage wines by 200 g! The planet thanks you (and so do we). Struck-match flintiness, unflinching flintiness. Stunningly mouth-watering but also stunningly tight and laser-focused. Of the three grosse lage trocken Riffel wines, this is the one most obviously hinting at honey, ripe stone fruit and even richness to come, despite the tension and incised structure. There is a ghost of fullness (to come) between the bladed tramlines. And then back to whetstone and lime. Very exciting. (TC) Drink 2027-2036 Published 27/9/2024

2023 Binger Rosengarten Riesling trocken Score: 17

It doesn't say on the label but tastes like a feinherb. So light on its toes! This is as complex, complete, ethereal, feathery and structured as a dandelion clock – then it's floating away. Honeysuckle, nectar and Cape gooseberries. Clementines, apricots and lilac. Long and petal-textured into the finish. Exquisite. (TC) Drink 2024-2034 Published 27/9/2024

2023 Binger Scharlachberg Riesling trocken Score: 17+

I've come to love the fists-up Scharlachberg with its peppery tension, chiselled geometry and white-marble aloofness (aside from a little snarl of back-off attitude, of course). As always, the fruit is hidden behind the structure – just glimpses of green and gold behind its magnificent, steel-sculptured edifice. There is so much more to come. Give this wine lots and lots of time. (TC) Drink 2028-2038 Published 27/9/2024